Repeals a provision requiring the Department of Children and Family Services to report to the State's Attorney whenever the Department receives a report that a newborn infant's blood contains a controlled substance. Amends the Juvenile Court Act of 1987. Removes newborn infants whose blood, urine, or meconium contains any amount of a controlled substance from the list of children presumed neglected or abused under the Act. In a provision listing the types of evidence that constitutes prima facie evidence of neglect, removes from the list: (i) proof that a minor has a medical diagnosis of fetal alcohol syndrome; (ii) proof that a minor has a medical diagnosis at birth of withdrawal symptoms from narcotics or barbiturates; and (iii) proof that a newborn infant's blood, urine, or meconium contains any amount of a controlled substance. Amends the Adoption Act. In the definition of "unfit parent", removes language providing that there is a rebuttable presumption that a parent who gives birth is unfit if a test result confirms that at birth the child's blood, urine, or meconium contained any amount of a controlled substance.
			Removes language providing that a parent is unfit if there is a finding that at birth the child's blood, urine, or meconium contained any amount of a controlled substance and that the biological mother of the child is the biological mother of at least one other child who was adjudicated a neglected minor by a court in accordance with the Juvenile Court Act of 1987.
